Dear Mrs. Taylor
of course I recall our telephone conversation.

I am already moderately well acquainted with de Chardin, having read a couple of his works, and started a comprehensive biography by Teilhard.
I was first introduced to the noosphere by Julian Huxley ("The Humanist Frame") and owe a good deal of my philosophical outlook to him and to JBS Haldane.
This is not to say, of course, that I have no differences with any of them!

Thank you for the book, and for your comment.

Sincerely
Julius Lederberg
